Some reviews say its disappointing,. noreferrer: Le Seigneur des Anneaux Les Deux Tours:It's hard to overstate how much the Seahawks absolutely need some kind of run game stability if they hope to have a chance of winning down the stretch. Over the past two games the Seahawks have run for a total of just 69 yards on 41 carries — a 1.9 yards per carry average. In order to be a legitimate contender in the NFC West the Seahawks need to be able to run the ball, but at the same time, they have to be able to stop the run — something that San Francisco can certainly do. The difference between the two teams, however, is just how drastically they differ when it comes to offensive line play. Like most of the guys on this roster, the Seahawks have a lot of good blockers, but they lack any kind of authority up front. If I had to pick the Seahawks for the worst offensive line in football it would probably be the O-line. When it comes to the Seahawks, there's always a lot of talk about how they need to be more physical at the point of attack, but nobody is willing to sacrifice protection for the good of the run game — at least, nobody willing to publicly state that. The Seahawks have a lot of good offensive linemen, but they lack any kind of identity. They're not just a bunch of guys that just look tough and end up lining up at the point of attack, they're a complete unit. It's the difference between having a line that's physical and hard and a line that's smart and disciplined. The Seahawks may have the best offensive line in football, but they're not consistent.
